RULE SERVED for Respondent No. 1-2

CORAM : HON'BLE MR.JUSTICE R.P.DHOLAKIA

Date of decision: 21/09/2004

ORAL JUDGEMENT

The detenu has been detained under the provisions of Gujarat Prevention of Anti-Social Activities Act, 1985 (hereinafter referred to as `the Act of 1985') by the order dated 2-4-2004 passed by the Police Commissioner, Vadodara City and he has been declared as bootlegger.

2. It is now well settled that unless the activities of a person as bootlegger has disturbed the maintenance of public order, he cannot be detained under the Act. Reliance is placed on a decision of the case of Piyush Kantilal Mehta Vs. Commissioner of Police, Ahmedabad & Ors. reported in AIR 1989 SC 491.

3. Heard learned advocate for the petitioner and learned AGP for the State. Also perused the material on record. It is submitted by the learned counsel for the petitioner that the petitioner has been branded as bootlegger based on solitary prohibition case registered with City Police Station, Vadodara and impugned order of detention was passed on 2-4-2004. It is mainly submitted that the petitioner has sent a written representation to the detaining authority on 13-4-2004. However, said representation was received on 15-4-2004 and it was not considered and communicated to the detenu till date and hence, there is a delay in deciding the representation and communicating the decision of the representation. In this connection, learned counsel for the petitioner has relied upon the case of Harish Pahwa Vs. State of U.P. and others, AIR 1981 S.C. 1126, more particularly para 3 which runs as under:

> "The representation made by a detenu has to be considered without any delay. The Supreme Court does not look at equanimity upon delays when the liberty of a person is concerned. Calling comments from other departments, seeking the opinion of Secretary after Secretary and allowing the representation to lie without being attended to is not the type of action which the State is expected to take in a matter of such vital importance. It is the duty of the State to proceed to determine representations with the utmost expedition, which means that the matter must be taken up for consideration as soon as such a representation is received and dealt with continuously (unless it is absolutely necessary to wait for some assistance in connection with it) until a final decision is taken and communicated to the detenu. Where this is not done the detention has to be declared unconstitutional."

4. Learned AGP has submitted that looking to the affidavit filed by the detaining authority, State has received the representation on 29th April, 2004 and it was decided on 4-5-2004 and communicated to the detenu on the same day.

5. However there is no affidavit to that effect filed by the state. Even if it is believed that the representation dated 13-4-2004 addressed to the detaining authority received on 15-4-2004 and decided on 29th April, 2004 and communicated to the detenu on 4-5-2004, there is a delay in deciding the representation and communicating the decision to the detenu. Hence, there is a delay in deciding the representation and communicating the decision to the detenu. However, no satisfactory explanation has been putforward by the authority for the same though filed affidavit. Hence, in view of the aforesaid judgment relied upon by the learned advocate for the petitioner, the order of detention is illegal and the same cannot be sustained. Since the petitioner succeeds only on this ground, learned counsel for the petitioner did not press other points.

6. The petition is allowed. The impugned order of detention dated 2-4-2004 passed against the detenu Uday Lalo Bhupendrabhai Parikh is hereby quashed and set aside. The detenu is ordered to be set at liberty forthwith, if not required in any other case. Rule is made absolute accordingly. Direct service is permitted.
